Prayer Focus

Dear Lord you alone are our salvation and we thank you for the sacrifice. Help us to strive to be more like you. Lord when so many people and organisations have come to value targets rather than to target values we bring before you those qualities and values which have held us and all people together in times past and without which every person of every nation is impoverished. We pray for Leadership which is deep and genuine and based on service. Help all those in elected office to realise that very often in leadership it is not a matter of doing things right but of doing the right thing. Lord hear our prayer. Amen

FROM THE MANSE. . . Rio Olympics!

Dear Friends,

I wonder how many of us are feeling just a wee bit weary these days, having stayed up late at least a couple of times over the past couple of weeks watching the excitement of the Olympics unfold. After all the controversy of state sponsored drug programmes and protests about the cost of the games, both of which are issues to be addressed on another day, it was thrilling to watch as four years of preparation came to fulfilment for every one of the 10,500 athletes taking part from 206 countries around the world. Many of us wondered when team GB announced their target of 48 medals, to follow up their success in London 2016.

But behind that impressive haul of medals, that puts us second only to the USA, lies a whole lot of blood sweat and, I'm sure, tears as well. Not just for the athletes, but for the unseen faces of the teams that support them. The physios, the trainers, the nutritionists, the sports psychologists, not to mention family and friends, who are there to ensure that each of the competitors can fulfil their true potential as individuals, and as an integral part of team GB.

Nowhere was this more obvious than in the Velodrome, as team GB swept the boards, and where for every Jason Kenny or Laura Trott, there was an army of engineers, mechanics, technicians, making sure that everything was geared to success. From the costumes they wore, the bikes they rode and even the fixings on their pedals, nothing was left to chance. But no matter the planning, no matter the preparation, no matter the determination, as well as all the successes there can be set backs too. Like Jason Kenny there can be false starts, when, even for a moment, everything can seem lost and somehow we have to find a way to put them behind us and to come back stronger.

Not everyone could win a coveted medal, of course, but for me there were so many winners who didn't quite make the podium. Like the radiant smiles of the two young athletes from North and South Korea as they posed together for a "selfie", the bitter conflict between their two countries forgotten, if only for that moment.

Whether in the velodrome, on the track, in the gym, on the court or on the field, every one of those taking part was determined to play their part, however small, however obscure – proud to be part of the team, proud to be an Olympian.

As we approach a new session, I trust each of us will find a part to play in the on-going work of God's church here in King's Park – proud to be part of Team KP, proud to be a disciple, a servant and part of our Lord's chosen people!

With Every blessing, Love Sandra

Editor's Extras...

September again - it doesn't seem like fifteen years since I started all this; and Lynda I'm sure feels the same with more than twenty years of typing our magazine. Our Ministry of Magazine has covered two ministers and a vacancy so there has been plenty to report. I mention Ministries as we go into a new term of activity as most of us will have a Ministry of some sort to donate to our church. One Church magazine I read recently analysed their articles into Ministry of Flowers, Ministry of Mirth, Ministry of Music etc, and this approach gives a handle to the various services we provide to the Church. The summer Ministries included a successful Summer Fete, Community Festival, Holiday Club, Prayer Walk and Litter Pick.

We continue to provide a platform for Church and Community, organisations, clubs and events. The "Aspects of Church" this month covers Harvest.

There is no Kirk Session or Congregational Board report this month as no meetings took place over the summer. On this "Anniversary" I would like to thank all those who were involved in ensuring that you received your magazine - the proof readers, printers, distributors and especially Lynda for her enthusiasm and support.
Happy Ministry, WP

THE CHOIR

On Thursday 8th September the Choir will start rehearsing at 7.30pm for the new session and we would welcome all our members to come along with their voices all tuned ready for a good night of singing. We would also be happy to welcome new members. You don't need to be able to read music as long as you can hold a tune. We are a very happy group and we enjoy our Thursday nights especially at the interval when we have time to speak to each while enjoying a cup of tea. We would like to think you will all pray about this, for as you see each week our choir is very small and we all do our best but a few more voices would be a great help.

.A New Session. . .

- You will remember that on Sunday 6 June, we were blessed with the ordination of nine new elders. In addition, Kirk Session minutes in March confirmed our welcome to another ordained elder, Bill Simpson, formerly of Rutherglen West and Wardlawhill, who now brings his experience to KP.
- All of these “new faces” have now been allocated tasks and districts to allow them to serve us as elders should. Over the last year we’ve sadly lost a number of conscientious and caring district elders, and, after much deliberation, these posts have now been filled. We’ve also extended our coverage of the extended “parish” to include members resident in far-off Cambuslang & East Kilbride, formerly served by what’s called the postal district. Thanks go to Hellen Conn for corresponding with these members up until now and for continuing to keep in touch with those folk who live really far away!
- Elders and Congregational Board members should be aware that session and board meetings start on Wednesday 21 September – the session at 7pm, and the board at 8.15pm

Please note:

In the April edition of King’s View Magazine it was intimated that Mr Hugh McKinnon had tendered his resignation as Elder and Property Convenor for personal reasons. Unfortunately, the term “personal reasons” was misconstrued by some members as alluding to illness within Mr McKinnon’s family, rather than making it clear that Mr McKinnon shared a difference of opinion with regard to baptism and the recruitment of personnel. The Minister and Session Clerk regret any distress this caused and once again thank Mr McKinnon for his years of faithful service and take this opportunity to wish Hugh and his family every blessing in the future.

FLOWER FUND

Thanks are due to all who contribute to the flower fund, beautifying our worship week by week.

SAIDIANA WOMENS PROJECT (KENYA)

Dear Friends, here is the latest report from Fridah. It is encouraging to see how their activities are developing, especially going round schools to take orders for uniforms. Fridah had been hoping to be here in Wales and Iona in June but has not received a visa. Thank you for all who support the work by your money and your prayers. You can contribute either by a cheque to Mary Smith at 33 Brent Road, East Kilbride G74 4RA, or directly into the bank account HBOS, Sort Code 11-47-05, a/c no: 00005903. Please let me know if any large sums are deposited so that I can acknowledge them properly.

Yours sincerely
Mary Smith (Treasurer)

Work continues apace in Marketing of Finished Goods, Sewing and Knitting, Micro-Entrepreneurship (buying and selling of farm and kitchen garden products) and Coach House alternatives (literacy and health). Water Harvesting continues with the schemes already commissioned being monitored as to sustainability. Families are continuing to receive support through HIV/Aids care.

The relief in the last six months included but was not limited to - food supplies, medication, clothing and education. Overall seven families and four students benefited from the above services. It is sometimes overwhelming to choose who should receive our relief given the high vulnerability among many families. Indeed, the situation is complex as far as relief resources are concerned among rural families with minimal support to Government and non-Government agencies that would otherwise help. Saidiana Women's Project believes in the power of education both formal and informal at all levels and it is really life changing.

A copy of the full report including the finance report is with the World Mission Committee.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING

Our Harvest Thanksgiving Service will take place on Sunday 25th September. Due to the success, in recent years, of flowers being delivered to elderly and housebound members of our congregation, we would ask that donations of flowers be handed into church, either on Saturday 24th from 9 - 12noon, or just bring them with you to church on Harvest Sunday.

Also, we will continue to collect packaged and tinned items for the Lodging House Mission - again drop them off on the Saturday or Sunday.

Many thanks for any contributions you are able to make.

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF

Glasgow Light Opera Club is presenting Fiddler on the Roof at the Kings Theatre the first week in November. A coach will be leaving from Kings Park Church on Thursday 3/11/16 at 6.30pm. Cost will be £20. If interested, please contact Andrew or Mairi.

Mairi Aitken – 569 7083

PRAYER BREAKFAST

The next Prayer Breakfast will be at Clincarthill Church, 1220 Cathcart Road on the 10th of September. The time will be announced in the intimations. If you wish to attend please let me know by the 3rd of September. What you may ask is a Prayer Breakfast? It is a group of Churches who meet and share fellowship over breakfast and pray for world and local church projects and concerns. I hope you will join me on the 10th.

ASPECTS OF OUR CHURCH Harvest

Harvest Thanksgiving Festival is an annual celebration giving thanks to God for the harvest, the safe reaping and gathering of grain and other crops grown. In Britain it is both a Church festival and a more secular festival remembered in schools.

The practice of consecrating first-fruits to God is not a distinctly Jewish one. It seems to have sprung up naturally among agricultural peoples from the belief that the first — hence the best — yield of the earth is due to God as an acknowledgment of His gifts. "God served first", then the whole crop becomes lawful food. The offering of the first-fruits was, in Israel, regulated by laws enshrined in different parts of the Mosaic books. In Deuteronomy 18:4-5 it says "You are to give them the first fruits of your grain, new wine and olive oil, and the first wool from the shearing of your sheep..." Numbers 15:20-21 "Present a loaf from the first of your ground meal and present it as an offering from the threshing floor. Throughout the generations to come you are to give this offering to the LORD from the first of your ground meal."

Thanks have been given for successful harvests since pagan times, traditionally held on the Sunday near or of the Harvest Moon. People were encouraged to bring in produce from their garden, the allotment or farm. The food was often distributed among the poor and senior citizens of the local community, or used to raise funds for the church, or charity.

The modern British tradition of celebrating Harvest Festival in churches began in 1843. Hymns such as "We plough the fields and scatter", "Come ye thankful people, come" and "All things bright and beautiful" helping to popularize this idea and spread the annual custom of decorating churches with home-grown produce for the Harvest Service.

As British people have come to rely less heavily on home-grown produce and due to an increase in dietary requirements, there has been a shift in emphasis in many Harvest Festival celebrations. Increasingly, churches have linked Harvest with an awareness of and concern for people in the developing world for whom growing crops of sufficient quality and quantity remains a struggle, showing their concern for those in need across the globe.

This Harvest Thanksgiving in King's Park you can help by supporting Christian Aid with money or The Lodging House Mission with food stuffs or by giving flowers, which are distributed to the housebound and others within the Parish for them to enjoy.

Thanks . . .

Editor's Note: Last month's magazine intimated an anonymous thank you, apologies, it should have read:

Sincere thanks to everyone who phoned and sent cards following my recent operation; particularly thanks to Aileen Campbell for her help on my discharge from hospital. Thanks to Reverend Sandra Boyd and my elder, Irene Liggat, for their visits, and for the kind thoughts from the Prayer Group, the Guild and the 271st Company of the Girl Guides. I am making good progress and becoming more active and independent each day.

Thank you and God Bless.
