FROM THE MANSE... Jesus said, "I am the light of the World"

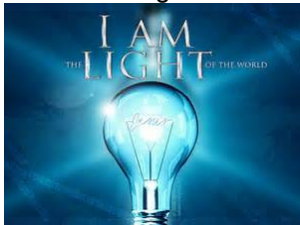

Dear Friends,

What a fantastic summer it has been! Great weather, great entertainment and great fellowship! The Commonwealth Games right on our door step, has been a fantastic experience for everyone and Glasgow 2014 certainly lived up the well named, Friendly Games.

Every day Scotland was in the running for some medal or other and we won some and not others. The excitement and enthusiasm was infectious and not least at the Opening and Closing Ceremonies at the Church where there was singing, flag waving and even cake eating, all with great enthusiasm, as well as fantastic fireworks.

Our Community Baton Party was blessed with a magnificent day. The magician was hired just in case we needed to get out of the rain, but it ended up helping us to get out of the mid-day sun! It was wonderful to see Councillors Archie Graham, Susan Aitken and Tom Harris, as well as King's Park folk and members of our local community enjoying the food, crafts, games, entertainment and friendship. Even the bunting outside our church has been bright and eye catching as soon as you come over the brae from King's Park Avenue. All in all I think Glasgow has been seen by the entire Commonwealth in a very good light this summer.

But as the nights draw in, the children get back to school and the sunlight seems to be less bright in the sky, certainly less warm, the dark and dullness of autumn can weigh heavily on our hearts after the glorious sunshine we have experienced. But we have a light that shines in our heart, the light that gives us hope. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life. This summer so many people have radiated with the light of God's Spirit, through the gifts and abilities that have been on display; from knitting & crochet, to baking, sewing, making all kinds of things, helping others in all kinds of ways. Even if the darkness is starting to creep into our day, Jesus the Light of the World can brighten our deepest darkness. Jesus loves us as we are, died for us so that we can be forgiven for our many mistakes and failings, gives us His Living Word as a lamp for our feet and a light for our path, and is with us always. That's a light worth having in all our lives.

Why not tell the Good News of The Light of the World, Jesus Christ, to those who seem to be living in darkness. They and we, have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Wishing you all God's Blessings, Sandra

Editor's Extras...

This summer has been a time for the Church and the Community. Apart from the Summer Fete, covered in the July/August issue, we have enjoyed a very successful Baton Party and an invitation to attend the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the Commonwealth Games on the large screens in the Church. Remember the banners and bunting. These events are due to Sandra linking to the Community, as is the Prayer Walk through the Parish (dry again), and the annual Holiday Club in August and our new Messy Church which begins in September. Also included in this month's issue is a tongue-in-cheek look at computers through a poem "Buttons and Wires". The series this year, "Women of the Bible" commences in this issue and next with women who have given their names to books of the Bible - Esther and Ruth. We start with Esther who had powerful connections in the Persian Empire which she used to protect the Jewish captives. See you all soon! WP

Rune of Hospitality (A welcome to our Church)

We saw a stranger yesterday
 We put food in the eating place
 Drink in the drinking place

 And, with the sacred name of the Triune God
 He blesses us and our house
 Our cattle and our dear ones

Lord, we pray for all those facing worries and concerns, that they feel are overwhelming them. Help us turn to Christ and be reassured that He hears all our prayers. Amen.

Competitions don't start until October for members wishing to enter. Bounce games are on at all times.

SAIDIANA WOMEN'S PROJECT (KENYA)

Dear Friends, I am pleased to be able to send you the Report (below) from Kenya for the first half of 2014. You can see how well they are doing in all aspects of their work. Than you to all of you who keep supporting the work. You can contribute either by cheque made out to Mary Smith at 33 Brent Road, East Kilbride G74 4RA or directly into the bank account: HBOS, Mount Florida Branch, 9 Carmunnock Road, GLASGOW G44 4UA. Sort Code 11-47-05 account number 00005903. Fridah assures me that the money we are able to contribute is worth ten times as much in what it can accomplish in Kenya. Yours sincerely, Mary A Smith, Saidiana Treasurer.

Water Harvesting Not much was done in this area during the 1st half of the year due to the fact that the project is undertaken on 50/50 basis between the beneficiary and Saidiana Women's Project and where it is taking time to complete, means that the beneficiaries may have had other priorities given financial hard times in the country. However, we have continued to encourage participants on the importance of having within easy reach clean domestic water sources.

Sewing & Knitting/Marketing of Finished Goods The first half year on average works out as marketing period for our finished goods and indeed we sold out reasonably well. Secondly we have already secured tenders to supply college uniforms for the academic year beginning September and still seeking others. We hope to move upwards in this area in the coming months.

Micro-Entrepreneurship Saidiana Women's Project has moved upwards in providing the much needed shoulder to cry on for the rural communities in terms of assisting participants gain sustainability in food production and indeed lack of food on the table being a major set back for many of those families. As a result those families are now able to put food on their table and indeed move further into income generating for the much needed cash for family use in other areas such as seeking medical attention whenever required as well as pay school fees for their children. This year Saidiana is working with 24 beneficiaries out of which 16 are basically in peasant farming/kitchen gardening whereas the remaining 8 are engaged in both food production and direct income generating activities.

We did report in the 2nd half year 2013 on the project's plan to officially work towards becoming a micro-finance entity and indeed good progress may be realized soon and come next year, we shall seek official documentation from relevant government department to operate so.

Coach House Alternatives This simple approach is making a lot of difference with mostly what we may term kitchen gardening but whose benefits go beyond the kitchen. We are currently undertaking a simple research to make it work even better.

HIV/AIDS—CARE We are sad to mention that in the first half year, Saidiana Women's project lost the fight when one of it's victims passed on leaving behind a wife and family. We are still caring for the wife and family. He care Saidiana Women's project normally undertakes is so important given that in many cases, such victims would on a monthly basis get some supplies from government health institutions but not enough to carry them through. This is where we come in handy; to provide the much needed encouragement and supplementary provisions of good and medicine for the opportunistic infections common to HIV positive cases. We are happy to observe the confidence gained by our subjects that they are able to look forward to life and the pleasures life brings just like any other person would do.

Relief Supplies Much of the relief supplies have been in the area of medicine for those under our care, food supplements, school fees for two students of whom one is at College undertaking clinical medicine and the other one at High School, as well as clothing to needy families.

Conclusion Saidiana Women's project remains simple in its approach but indeed focused and robust in meeting the challenges of those we are privileged to have come across. We are however, challenged that given the sufferings out there, we can do more.

In this day and age, in a world of high fliers
 Our life is controlled by buttons and wires
 We have got to the stage, we don't think for our self
 As all that we need, is a "box" on the shelf
 A time filled with pictures, instead of just sound
 Where "tablets" and "mobiles" take "snaps" by the pound
 When Churches are closing - a reduction in spires
 Is in part, an obsession with buttons and wires.

 All you need are ideas, a "box" and a "mouse"
 Although all this depends on a list of suppliers
 Through the "internet" tasked by "keyboard" and wires

 The "language" we "trawl" through, full of "updates" and mires
 We need - to adapt to buttons and wires

WOMEN OF THE BIBLE

Esther

She was the Queen of Ahasuerus, and heroine of the book that bears her name. She was a Jewess named Hadassah (the Myrtle), but when she entered the Royal Harem she received the name by which she henceforth became known (Esther 2:7). It is a Syro-Arabian modification of the Persian word satarah, which means a star. She was the daughter of Abihail, a Benjamite. Her family did not avail themselves of the permission granted by Cyrus to the exiles to return to Jerusalem; and she resided with her cousin Mordecai, who held some office in the household of the Persian King at "Shushan in the Palace".

Ahasuerus (Xerxes) having divorced Queen Vashi, because she wouldn't obey him, chose Esther to be his wife. Soon after, he gave Haman, the Agagite, his Prime Minister, power to kill all the Jews throughout the Persian Empire. By the interposition of Esther this catastrophe was averted. Haman was hanged on the gallows intended for Mordecai (Esther 7); and the Jews established an annual feast - Purim - in memory of their deliverance. This took place about 52 years after the return - the year of the great battles of Plataea and Mycale (BC 479).

Esther appears in the Bible as a "Woman of great piety, faith, courage and resolution; dutiful daughter, obedient to her father's counsels, and anxious to share the King's favour for the good of the Jewish people. She obtained favour by all who looked on her." (Esther 2:15). That she was raised up as an instrument of the hand of God to avert the destruction of the Jewish people, and to afford them protection and forward their wealth and peace, in their captivity, is also manifest from the Scripture account.

Book of Esther

Authorship unknown but after the death of Xerxes in BC 465 and possibly by a contemporary of Esther - around 444-434 BC. This book is more purely historical than any other book of Scripture; and it has the remarkable peculiarity in that the name of God does not appear from first to last.

The name may not appear but observers say “His hand does”. The book wonderfully exhibits the providential government of God.

Notes

Esther contains the longest verse in the Bible, Esther 8:9. It is 88 words long.

Xerxes threw a party (banquet) that lasted six months.

Esther had a year of beauty treatments to get ready for the King (Esther 2: 12-13).

The Persians had an excellent postal system. The Empire was divided into 20 satrapies (provinces) interconnected by a postal system begun by King Cyrus around 535 BC.

Hanging was probably not as we know it. The body would be impaled on a stake and hung publicly for display. Romans adapted this method to develop executions on crosses.

A huge thank you to everyone

the Commonwealth Games.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING

Our Harvest Thanksgiving Service will take place on Sunday 21st September.

Due to the success in recent years of flowers being delivered to elderly and housebound members of our congregation we would ask that donations of flowers again be handed into church, either on Saturday 20th between 9-12noon or bring them with you to church on Sunday.

Also due to the low resources of the Lodging House Mission we are continuing to collect packaged and tinned items for them.

Thank-you for any contributions you are able to make.

THE BUTTERCUPS (formerly The Smurfs)

The Smurfs are undergoing a change regarding its name. From now on, the pre-Brownie group will be known as The Buttercups. And we are really excited about it! We are starting a new session, with a new team of leaders, with new ideas and so a new name was only appropriate.

The Buttercups' enrolment evening is Thursday 4th of September, from 6.15-7.15pm. Our first full night back is the following week, on the 11th of September.

If you know any 4 to 7 year old girls who would be interested in joining us every Thursday for arts and crafts, singing and dancing, story telling and lots of fun games, then feel free to invite them along. We have so much planned for this year and are really excited to get stuck in!
